

Request for consultation services form

The NM OSHA consultation program provides free consultation services to New Mexico employers upon request. Our consultants can assist employers in evaluating the safety and health programs at your worksite. We can evaluate all aspects of your operation or we can limit our activity to specific processes within your operation. Your only obligation is a commitment to correct serious safety and health hazards in a timely manner.

Please complete the following information to assist us in preparing for our visit. This form must be signed by a company officer or supervisor.
